"Come, see a man who told me everything I ever did!"

This 10-week Bible study joins a thirsty-hearted Samaritan woman in inviting you to meet a man named Jesus ...

Who looks into a woman's heart and knows exactly what she needs.

Who values women regardless of their marital status, professional skills, sexual history, or financial position.

Who notices both the heroic faith of women in desperate circumstances and the quiet suffering of sisters racked by grief and chronic illness.

Who invites women to work alongside Him and use their intellectual capacity to know him more fully.

Who inspires women to give extravagantly and to stay by his side when all the world abandons him.

The women of the Gospels discovered in every encounter with Jesus that he was no ordinary first-century rabbi, but a gentle Savior who reflected on them the face of his compassionate Father.

"Lynn was a recent speaker at our women's retreat. One of the things I really loved was that her teachings were very interactive and had a lot of questions for us to think about and apply to our own lives. But the thing I most appreciated about Lynn is that she shared her own story with us and how Jesus has encountered her."

— Deborah Freeman
